Miami Tower Lights Up Skyline in New Orleans Saints Colors

Posted By Jillian Lobato on February 1st, 2010

The New Orleans Saints are arriving at Downtown Miami's Intercontinental Hotel this evening, and will be staying at the iconic Miami Tower throughout Super Bowl XLIV. Tonight at nightfall, the landmark office building, which is one of the most recognizable buildings in Miami's skyline, will light up the sky in gold in recognition of the Saints' stay in Downtown. The building will light up each night, beginning tonight, through Wednesday, February 3. Stay tuned for all the Super Bowl news to come.
