
May 17, 2009

Bike Miami Days' Last Event May 17

By Editor • May 17th, 2009 • Category: news

Bike Miami Days held its seventh and final event of the season on May 17. Several downtown streets were closed on the Sunday so people could cycle as well as walk, run and inline skate.

Bike Miami Days is an initiative by Mayor Manny Diaz to promote outdoor activity and a sense of community.

In addition to cycling, events included live music, an international village, a kids corner, yoga and stretching classes, raffles and more.

For more information visit Bike-Miami.com. Organizers are planning more Bike Miami Days in the fall.

To read Miami's Bicycle Action Plan from October 2008, visit MiamiGov.com/cms/Files/Bicycle Action Plan Approved by Commission 10-16-08.pdf