By TNM Staff on April 5, 2016

Miami's Downtown Development Authority has launched a Downtown Miami Interactive 3-D Skyline Map, which outlines 116 projects either proposed, under construction or recently completed.

The map helps to give an idea of what is downtown Miami will soon look like, although it does omit many projects and includes some erroneous or outdated data.

The DDA says that they will update the map quarterly to keep tabs on one of the world's fastest growing cities.
